DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims, filed 10/23/2003 have been considered but are most in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. Amendments to the title are noted.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 3. Claims 146-251, 254-258, 260-262, 265-273, 276-278, 280-281, 284-292 & 294-299 & 301-313 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Graczyk, (U.S. Pat # 5,192,999), in view of Lett, (U.S. Pat # 5,657,414).

Considering claims 246, 247, 257, 268, 269, 277, 285, 286, 298 & 299, the claimed TV system or method comprising 'a local computer collocated with and in communication with a client to allow the client to communicate with the local computer', reads on the disclosure of Graczyk, which is directed to a computerized TV system including a personal computer and a TV circuit 46, within the same chassis; see Fig. 1; Abstract & col. 2, lines 10-22. The claimed client corresponds with the TV circuit 46, which is enabled to receive TV signals from an antenna or CATV connection, col. 5, lines 64-66.

Regarding the amended claimed feature, 'wherein the client further includes a client computer to process computer code, included in the application data, to facilitate interaction with a user', Graczyk teaches that the TV circuit is IBM PC-AT compatible and that it is configured to run under DOS, or a GUI, and that its possible uses includes interactive software, col. 9, lines 41-67. This disclosure clearly reads on the feature, 'to process computer code, included in the application data, to facilitate an interaction with a user'.

However, Graczyk does not explicitly teach that the tuner card 46 includes a microprocessor, which would read on a 'client computer'. Nevertheless Lett, which is in the same field of endeavor, teaches an upgrade for client system that includes a expansion card with a microprocessor, col. 8, lines 15-63. It would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made, to modify the tuner card 46 of Graczyk with the feature of a microprocessor, at least for the desirable improvement of extending the capabilities of the main microprocessor, as taught by Lett.

Regarding the claimed feature of the client receiving data including auxiliary data and an auxiliary data processor, Graczyk does not discuss in detail the content of received TV signals.

Art Unit: 2623

Nevertheless, this feature is taught by Lett, which discloses inserting data, such as EPG data into an in-band channel, for instance VBI or HBI, col. 5, lines 15-35. In a known manner, the EPG data is displayed for the user, in order to assist in channel selection, and reads on the claimed 'application data'. It would have been obvious for one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made, to modify Graczyk with the feature of transmitting an EPG as auxiliary data, to a client device, as taught by Lett, at least for the desirable benefit of assisting the subscriber in program selection, displaying a list of programs on the TV screen.

As for the additionally claimed feature of a mass storage in communication with the client to enable the client to retrieve information from the mass storage, Graczyk teaches that the TV circuit may retrieve at least graphics/video data from a laser disk player, col. 5, lines 66-67. Also, Lett teaches that the expansion card 138 includes its own memory for storing additional program data, col. 8, lines 55-62. The expansion card 138 in Lett interacts with the main memory and microprocessor, in a manner that reads on the claimed subject matter.

Considering claims 248, 258, 270, 278, 287-288 & 301, col. 9, lines 50-62 of Graczyk discloses that video signals from TV circuit 46 may be mixed with graphics/video signals from host computer 24 and stored on a disk.

Considering claims 249-251, 260-262, 271-273, 280-281, 289-291 & 302-304, the host computer 24 of Graczyk, which is a personal computer, controls the processes within the multimedia computerized TV system, including the operation of the TV circuit 46. As for the computer program received in the data, the subject matter reads on the interactive software operating on the tuner card 46 in Graczyk, which is controlled by the computer 24.

Application/Control Number: 09/903,091

Considering claim 254-256, 265-267, 276, 284, 292, 294-297 & 305-311, the executable code reads on the interactive software operating on the TV tuner 46 in Graczyk.

Considering claims 312-313, the claimed machine-readable medium embodying a sequence of instructions that, when executed by a machine, causes the machine to perform functions that correspond with subject matter mentioned above in the rejection of claim 246, is likewise analyzed. As for the claimed, 'machine' the recitation reads on the TV tuner 46 in Graczyk.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

- A) Hendricks Teaches a upgrade card for TV tuning system that includes a microprocessor.
- 5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
